Dr. Geo. D. Thurman Called to Army Duty

The war strikes hard at the community of Hamlin when it calls from Hamlin Dr. George D. Thurman, who with his family left Tuesday for Harlingen where he is assigned duty in the Medical Corps.

Till the end of the "duration" we shall refer to this physician as First Lt. George D. Thurman, M. C. (but it's just plain Dr. Thurman to us). Lt. Thurman, M. C., was dressed out in his regulation uniform when he left.

Dr. Thurman's accounts will be in charge of Mrs. Benchoff, his secretary, and let all of us who have been availing ourselves of this doctor's services bear in mind that the army is calling him from a great practice into a public service, hence should anybody be due him for previous practice, now is a time when he will appreciate it most. He requested the Herald to say for him that all payments should be made at his office or sent to Mrs. Benchoff, Hamlin.

A NEW DOCTOR COMING

The Herald is informed that Dr. W. C. Weir of Eden, Texas, will leave Dr. Thurman's equipment and occupy his office while Dr. Thurman is away.

Dr. Weir has been in Eden for 13 years, and perhaps he will be ready to take up his practice here before this week ends.

New Rotary President Frank Waggoner On Way Toronto, Canada

Wednesday afternoon, Frank Waggoner, president-elect, of the Hamlin Rotary Club, left by bus through Abilene, for Toronto, Canada, to spend all next week there in the Rotary International Convention.

A free trip to the International Convention is one of the chief honors the local Rotary Club grants to its presidents. However, not all have had that pleasure, for various reasons, some of which are the distance and the cost.

Rotary International is truly an international organization, and despite the wars and the conquered nations, doubtless many "imprisoned" countries will have representatives. Rotary is one expression of Freedom, and wherever dictators rule, Rotary does not exist.

U. S. Army Wants More Glider Pilots

Major Perry C. Euchner, Army Recruiting and Induction Officer at Abilene, Texas, released today a War Department radiogram of June 9th which is of vital interest to young men from 18 to 36 who wish to become pioneers in one of the most fascinating branches of the Army services.

To qualify now for Glider Pilot Training, a man no longer needs to have had previous Aviation Cadet training of any kind. He only must meet the following qualifications:

PHYSICAL—Pass a Class 2 flying examination by a Flight Surgeon. (Eye requirements 20-40 correctible to 20-20 by glasses).

MENTAL—Pass the Army General Classification Test with a score of 110, or pass the current Aviation Cadet Mental Screening Test with a minimum score of 65, (as against a score of 80 required to qualify for Aviation Cadet).

Major Euchner quotes the following verbatim from the War Department radiogram:

"Glider Pilot applicants will be informed that training course includes flying a light plane, and a limited number of selected graduates in each class will receive commissions as Second Lieutenants, Army of the United States, and other graduates will be appointed Staff Sergeants on flying status."

A quota of 200 has been assigned to the Eighth Corps Area to be completed June 22nd. Additional quotas will probably be assigned later. But all men who are interested in being pioneers in this new service should get in touch at once with their local Recruiting and Induction station.

W. D. Cooper Died Early Last Saturday

W. D. Cooper, a former business man of Hamlin, passed away at his residence on the corner of Hope Avenue and Fifth Street (Rotan Highway) at 2:05 A. M. Saturday, June 13, following a period of failing health for a number of years.

Mr. Cooper was 74 years 9 months and 28 days of age. He was born on August 15, 1867 in Greenville, South Carolina. He came to Texas with his parents when a mere boy. In 1891 he was united in marriage to Minnie A. Lawrence, in Taylor, Texas, who survives. There were no children, however one girl was adopted, who now is Mrs. L. C. Denton, of Hamlin.

Mr. Cooper had two surviving sisters, Mrs. J. P. Byford of Waco, and Mrs. Thomas Patterson of Decatur. Ill health prevented both of the sisters from coming for the funeral. A niece, Mrs. Montie Andrews of Waco, came, also two of Mrs. Cooper's nieces, Misses Pearl and Etta Spires of Sweetwater were present.

Mr. Cooper came to Hamlin in the summer of 1913 and for several years engaged in grocery merchandising. In 1918 he went to Clarendon but after about a year and half moved back to Hamlin. He served from time to time either the City of Hamlin, the school district or the county as tax assessor, and helped conduct more elections the past 20 years in Hamlin than any other man.

Since the age of eighteen, Mr. Cooper had lived a consistent Christian life, placing his membership in the Baptist church, notwithstanding he was a son of a Methodist minister. He was more of the old South type of citizen, quiet, serious, sociable and friendly. He was a close observer, interested in his community as a citizen and showed active interest on many occasions in matters of government.

Several years ago he requested Rev. J. H. Hamblen, formerly a pastor of the Methodist church of Hamlin, to be present and help conduct his funeral. He also a short while before his death listed the songs, the scripture readings, and other details of his funeral. Everything was carried out as far as possible.

The funeral was held in the Baptist church Sunday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. E. East and Rev. James E. Harrell, pastor of the Methodist church. (Rev. Hamblen had made arrangements that prevented his participation).

The Barrow Company had charge of interment which was in East Cemetery.

Hamlin Man Accused Of Killing Soldier

(Account From Abilene Reporter-News)

W. T. Walker, 57, of Hamlin, charged with murder for the fatal shooting of Pfc. Luke Rizzo of Camp Berkeley Tuesday night, was released from the Taylor county jail late yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon on completion of $5,000 bond.

The shooting took place at Abilene State park about 11 P. M., while Rizzo was in the company of Walker's wife, Mrs. Lee Walker, 26, and another couple.

Funeral for Rizzo, member of Battery D, 202nd Field Artillery, is to be held at a Camp Berkeley chapel at 8 A. M. today (Thursday). The body is to be sent by train to his home in Houston.

Walker had come to Abilene to see his wife, he said, and as he was turning toward her boarding place he saw her and Miss Schroeder get into Rizzo's car.

Walker then followed the party first to Kirby park and then to Abilene State park.

According to statements taken from Walker, Mrs. Walker, Pfc. Walter Passons and Edna Schroeder, witnesses to the shooting, Walker came up to Rizzo's car as the two couples were preparing to go to the park clubhouse for a soda.

When he came up to the car, Rizzo and Mrs. Walker got out and walked with him down the road for a short distance. There was a brief scuffle before Walker's gun, a .38 caliber revolver discharged, wounding Rizzo in the heart.

Walker waited for officers to arrive at the scene of the shooting, south of the concessions building, and surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Tobe Hillburn. Walker handed over a .38 calibre revolver, from which two shots had been fired.

Deputy Sheriff Tobe Hillburn, who worked throughout the night on the case, obtained signed statements from Walker, and from Mrs. Lee Walker, wife of the suspect, and from Pfc. Walter Passons and Miss Edna Schroeder, other members of the party who were present at the time of the shooting.

These statements, corroborating one another, gave the details of the events leading up to the shooting.

Mrs. Walker was said to have been attending a beauty operators school in Abilene for the past six months.

Hamlin Business Men To Go To Stamford

Office of Price Administration will hold an area meeting in Stamford, Friday (today) June 19th, at 2:00 P. M., at the High school auditorium.

Officials from the Dallas office will explain the recent general maximum price regulation. The meeting will be in the form of a "Question Box" and clinic and full opportunity will be given to business men to learn all about price rulings.

Hamlin business men will be leaving for the meeting about 1:00 P. M. from the Chamber of Commerce where it is hoped several cars will be available for those wishing to go.

Officials from Dallas will speak on the various phases of the regulations and will answer questions from the floor.

Questions concerning general maximum price regulations will be discussed and will include: Commodities which are "cost of living commodities"; commodities and services excepted, posting ceiling prices, procedure for adjustment or amendment, and records that must be kept by both the retailer and wholesaler.

Business men of surrounding towns including Hamlin, Haskell, Roby, Seymour, Munday, Anson, Albany, Aspermont, Sagerton, are expected to attend and invitations are extended to any others in the territory who might be interested.

Miss Vickey Crow came up from San Antonio to spend the past week end in Hamlin with her parents. She is in a business college there.

Mrs. Morris Hall and children of Lubbock are spending the week here with her sister, Mrs. Art Carmichael.

Lightning Strikes 55,000 Bbl. Oil Tank

It was just a little thunder storm about mid-afternoon Sunday, but it was full of electricity, and landed on one of the big 55,000 bbl. storage oil tanks at the General Crude Station west of Hamlin. Quick as one can bat an eye, the fire was a roaring caldron, with great red flames leaping far into the air, and elevating a column of smoke so high that it could be seen beyond Sweetwater.

The tank was not full of oil, so we have understood, but to see the tons of steel crumple into scrap iron means a loss of maybe $20,000.00 alone. This leaves for storage one 55,000 barrel tank, and one or more smaller tanks.

This is the second time for lightning to hit one of the big tanks at that station.

Fire Destroys Church

The Assembly of God church building was a complete loss by fire just after midnight, Thursday night.

This building was in East Hamlin, and the membership had recently purchased a piano and put in new seats. Rev. McMillan, the pastor, states that they have no idea of how the fire started, as there was no gas and no fire had been in the building for a long time.

Insurance was only $200.00.

Big Rains Drench All Of Hamlin Territory

All Can Work At Collecting Rubber

Dallas, June 17—Salvage officials in the regional War Production Board office today gave this advice on how to co-operate with President Roosevelt's all-out nation-wide scrap rubber salvage campaign:

1. Collect old and discarded rubber items around your home and yard. Acceptable scrap rubber includes tires of any kind whether automobile or baby carriage, rubber tubes, patches, boots, reliners, and cut up parts except beads and buffings. Also wanted are old rubber boots, shoes, soles, heels; drug sundries such as hot water bottles and rubber gloves; rubberized clothing, bathing caps, and a multitude of miscellaneous things like rubber jar rings, mats, hose, fly swatters, rubber stamps and pads, etc.

2. Remove all wood, iron, leather and cloth from the rubber article.

3. Take it to a filling station where you will be paid a penny a lb. if you want pay, for this scrap rubber. The filling station also will accept contributions. The only kind of rubber that is not acceptable is that in battery boxes.

Salvage officials emphasized that any profits resulting from this collection will be turned over to the U. S. O., Army Relief, Navy Relief, and American Red Cross. In other words, the oil companies are to play a big part in collecting and transporting rubber. If a total weight is turned over to government greater than the amount paid for the surplus will go to some relief set-up.

Keep your eyes skinned for rubber.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The commencement exercises of the Vacation Bible school will be held Sunday night. Those boys and girls, attending regularly and doing faithful work, will receive their certificates. The pastor will bring a message designed especially for youth. It should be an impressive service. Be Sure And Come.

H. E. East, Pastor

(Sgt. John Howard from Camp Ft. Francis E. Warren, Wyoming, came in Sunday on an 18 days furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John V. Howard. The hot June weather of Texas will be a contrast to the Wyoming snows.

When the old timer reads that the Hamlin territory received so much rain that they had to measure it out at Hitson by the wash pot gauge, then he will understand that we had some real rain.

The City of Hamlin now has an official rain gauge and it is not guess work any more.

3.18 inches is the report for Sunday afternoon's small shower and the flood that came from 1:00 A. M. till daylight Monday morning. That was our 1942 biggest rain. Yes it was needed, but maybe not quite that much. Ditches, and drains were filled to capacity.

It would appear that Hamlin was in the center of the wide-spread fall, as no where else, according to a certain daily paper, was there as much reported. The paper in question, by error got the report at Hamlin correct, by saying "Heavy at Hamlin," meaning to say heavy at Hamby. Well their error was correct. Heavy was enough to say.

Now what about crops in connection with a big rain. Really a little rain was needed, except on the small acreage of wheat that was in process of harvesting. So far no special damage was reported to wheat. Crops in this section are late, because of too much rain. Some cotton crops became so weedy that replanting was done to clean the fields. This is not general. The Sunday-Monday rains will push the crop outlook far up in the season, making prospects extra good.

As was expected, Hamlin's new water supply is keeping up its record of plenty, and lots to spare. The big lake was within about 15 inches of the top outlet when the rains came. The "Fish Lake" west of town stays full and running over these days.

Hamlin's new highway and street paving goes slow in wet weather, and the big rains impressed the engineers that a great area of water comes across the highway from Hamlin to Rotan. The road is far from being finished and will present a better drainage outlook when completely done.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Dubose of Amarillo, are week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cox, on Union Avenue.

Clarence Parker of Dallas is visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cox.

Miss Pauline Young, nurse in the Bryan Memorial hospital in Lincoln, Nebraska, came Sunday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young while her soldier brother, Dee Young, is at home on a furlough. Miss Young will take a month on her vacation.

Now Rubber—

Dig out that old piece of rubber. Don't wait, every ounce counts, and it is a good way to clean up. Become "rubber minded", and keep your eye skinned for everything that looks like rubber.

In the plentiful, extravagant years in the past we have been wasteful, reckless but till we see the world on an even keel, that kind of living must stop. Now dig in, and dig up all the rubber you can.

—T & T—

Navies That Pass Into The Sea—

A naval battle, in the old toe-to-toe, bang-to-bang fashion will be no more. No battle ship can go out now safely without "skyeeyes" and the sky planes will locate the enemy far out from gun range and action starts. The only part a ship can play is to come in where the planes have messed up the sea and pick up a few of the enemy from the water.

So it looks as if future sea battles will consist in plane fights to see which power can dispel the other and let the ships through.

The battles of the Coral Sea and of Midway indicate that cruisers make good targets, and carriers are luscious picking for any plane that gets the first dive. And this leads any American to visualize the results of the various fields of war... the air plane must ultimately open the way, hold the line, and blast the lines before foot soldiers or tanks can take over. Vast battle ships, cruisers, destroyers and huge transports can operate safely only when the airplane makes safe their landings. In this manner the much wished-for invasion of German held territory will be recaptured by the Americans and English.

Battle ships and cruisers can pound port cities and forts only if supporting air planes can make things safe while such ships stand still and shoot. So it is a new day in sea warfare. It is up to the plane or the submarine to do the necessary work of opening the way.

Here's Something—

Yes, maybe to be fair to the small weekly newspapers of this nation, we believe Congress or some authorized committee should make a report on the amount of government money paid out in war efforts to the radio chains, the big newspaper chains, and poster firms of the nation and let the little papers see how much they (the small papers) have done to enlighten, to build up and keep up national morale ALL free of charge, while the others have been getting the "gravy". That would be something. We for one, do not object to big advertising concerns getting huge amounts for doing a public service, but we do think the pie should be scattered around. The amount of calls, "please release" upon the small papers is beyond computation, all the way from begging for more soldiers, sailors, marines, mechanics, bonds, stamps, and on and on "this and that" and not a single picture or advertisement (except free) is offered the small paper.

There is one great satisfaction: In every emergency the "grass-roots" morale comes from the small papers of the land. They may feel left off the pay-roll, but that makes no difference, they scrape up and carry on just the same to the very last. Some close up as well as put up. It is an empty compliment for a newspaper to hear some big belled statesman (?) rear back and brag on the little town newspaper, when he complacently allows the big fish to get all the bait. Chew that please.

There are too many governmental enterprises carried on by well paid men and women, while the backbone of their success lies in the lap of the small paper that goes into the homes of the people the said agents are paid to serve. Try to "spit" that out, if you please.

If there is any one thing this paper advocates it is fairness and regularity, whether it be the manner of drafting men into the army or what not. You can't build up anything with a dozen irregularities. Finally it becomes the duty of the little dried up country newspaper to have guts enough to speak out in meeting and shock a few high-wheels. We mean to impress the fact that no top branches are really safe and thriving while the "grass-roots" are not properly supported.

If you want something done for the country, pay everybody else but the small newspaper, whose duty it is to tell what some high paid guy wants you and me and others to do, even we should brag on him, and boost to elevate his importance in the land of trouble. The patriot is the one who does a lot for his country for nothing, at a sacrifice.

Letter From A Father And One From His Son

El Paso, Texas
June 14, 1942

Mr. Bowen Pope

Hamlin, Texas.

Dear Pope:

How are you and the Hamlin country by this time?

This leaves all the Hamlin boys here feeling fine. There are nine of us here at present, working on the El Paso Air Base. We have only been allowed 1-2 day off the job since we have been here.

Am sending you a letter that J. T. wrote us.

The spirit of his letter is what makes me proud of my only son.

Yours truly,

G. T. Sipe

Dearest Mother and All:

I'll attempt to drop you a few lines to let you know I'm ok. I'm sorry you have been looking for me to come home because if things don't change up around here I won't be coming. The most you can get now is a one day pass and you have to have a good reason for wanting that. If the pay raise goes through and they don't ration gasoline, I'm going to buy a car in a month or two so that I can get a one day pass and come home some week end.

I don't know what to do though, because some of us are going to leave in the near future and I'm not sure where they are going. If I'm among the bunch I hope it is Texas.

I've been having it pretty easy since I wrote you last. I work to around eight one night. I get off at six the next day, then right after noon the third day. So you see I'm working better hours than I have in quite a while.

I want you to quit worrying about me. If I'm ever sent away I'll let you know before I leave the States. I won't be able to tell you where but I'll know when I'm going. As long as I'm at a training field I don't think there is any danger of ever leaving.

There are two new fields going up in Texas and some men are going to them from here, so I hope I go there. If I should be called to go over though, I'm ready. It is as much my fight as anyone's and we can't all stay in the U. S. and be instructors, etc. In fact I don't think any more of a person who uses that means of staying out of the army and war than Bowen Pope thinks of conscientious objectors. I may never go but I'm not hiding cowardice behind a job. I don't know of a better way to die than for what a person thinks is right and for the rights of his folks and country. I have two sisters who have their whole futures before them and I'll do anything that is possible for me to do to keep them from having to

Your son and Brother

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

(By BOYCE HOUSE)

Progress is all right—but with automobiles and concrete roads, travel across country is not as thrilling as it used to be.

My father died when I was only 12 years old. Two years before that, in an effort to regain his health, he decided to "rough it"—so he bought a covered wagon and a pair of horses, old Jim and Joe, both sorrels but quite different in character; Jim, the older, being slow, steady and conservative Joe being energetic, eccentric and even fiery—and the four of us, my father, the horses and I, set out to roam over Southwest Texas.

Hondo, D'Hanis, Sabinal—what vivid memories the names bring back. Sometimes, we camped in the edge of town; sometimes, alongside the road if our progress had been slower than we expected and night overtook us.

It was in a wagon-yard at Eagle Pass that a copy of the "Christian Herald" came to hand and I remember—as though it were a month ago, instead of many long years—reading about Gypsy Smith, who spent his boyhood in wandering by wagon but grew up to become one of the world's greatest evangelists.

Uvalde, Del Rio, Carrizo Springs—they were included in our travels. Much of the time, we were out in open country and many a night we made camp in a wilderness, miles from a town or even a human habitation. More than once there was the howling of a coyote for a lullaby. Usually, I held the reins on the long drives, built the campfire, sliced the salt bacon, prepared the onions, potatoes and coffee, and washed the tin plates and the steel knives and forks afterward.

We slept under the stars, but one night, thunder, lightning and sheets of rain drove us to the shelter of the wagon, which rocked like a ship in a storm at sea.

Any prejudice that any Easterner might have about goat meat would disappear if he were forced to rely on salt bacon as the main item of diet for a week at a time. One day, an old Mexican (the first person seen all morning) came slowly down the dim trail in an ancient cart. He had butchered a goat and, through signs, we purchased a steak. That meat tasted as good as the steak I ate a year ago from the grand champion steer of the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. Goat barbecue ever since has been a prime favorite with me.

Carpets of wild flowers; the welcome—even though thin, shade of a mesquite at noon; keeping the drinking water cool by letting it seep through a Mexican clay jar; seeing road-runners, hawks, jack-rabbits—and there come recollections of San Marcos, with its crystal clear river; and of stopping at cold springs beside the road.

The climax of it all came when, with my feet dangling from the high seat, I drove the covered wagon up crowded Congress Avenue in Austin, amid ice wagons and clanging street cars and prancing horses drawing fancy buggies—my eyes straying always back to the grandest sight I had ever seen—the vast expanse of the Capitol and its towering dome in a sky of boundless blue.

Round Rock, with a well of mineral water; then Taylor, and the end of the travels. For there, the wagon and the horses were sold, and there came the tragedy of parting with Jim and, especially Joe.

The Indian believed that immortality was not for man alone but for his horse and dog as well—and that a man, after death, would be reunited with the animals that had loved him and served him so well. Perhaps in a plain beyond the stars the horses are grazing now and maybe sometime at my call, Joe will come trotting and nickering, with old Jim plodding along behind.

Found this in the Wood County Democrat it's entitled "An Editor's Prayer":

Blessed are the merchants who advertise for they have faith in their business, and their prosperity shall increase many fold.

Blessed is the woman who sends in a written account of a party or a wedding, naming names and dates and time and places, for she shall see more than a brief hint that such an event took place.

Blessed are they who do not expect the editor to know everything by telling him whenever an interesting event occurs in which they are interested, for they shall have a better newspaper in the town.

Blessed are those who get their copy in early for they shall occupy a warm spot in the heart of the editor.

Blessed are they who do not think they could run a paper better than the editor runs it—yea thrice blessed are they, because there are so few of them in the country.

It Never Came

Mary, aged four, paying a visit to a friend with her mother, who is of a talkative nature, got tired and began to inquire about going home.

Her mother rebuked her, and said: "It's very rude to interrupt while I am speaking; you should wait until I finish."

"But," said Mary sadly, "you don't finish." —Independent For-ester.

Deeply Grateful

Words are inadequate to express our sincere gratitude to those who were so loyal and anxious to alleviate every pain and discomfort of our loved one. Most especially do we thank Bros. Harrell and East, also Mr. J. B. Eakin, and Mrs. Bell who was his nurse.

Dear friends, all of you have helped us to carry the heavy trial in a braver and lighter way. Sincere thanks for the beautiful floral offering.

May the Holy Spirit guide and bless each one of you.

Miss Rosemary Carlton William J. Adams Recite Vows Sunday

Miss Rosemary Carlton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carlton of Hamlin, became the bride of Mr. William J. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Adams of Fitzgerald, Ga., Sunday. The service was read at twilight in the Methodist church by the pastor, the Rev. James E. Harrell.

The church was attractively decorated with white gladioluses and candelabra holding white tapers.

Mrs. W. C. Russell who sang at the marriage of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carlton, sang "At Dawning." Wedding music from Mendelssohn was played by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Henry Withers of Roby.

The bride wore a dress of navy sheer with white organdy trimmings and accessories of white. Her flowers were white orchids. For something borrowed she wore her aunt's onyx cameo, and for something old she carried an English lace handkerchief belonging to her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crawford of Corpus Christi, attended the couple. Mrs. Crawford is a cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Teague on Jackson Avenue. Mrs. Teague was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. L. C. Bond, Mrs. W. R. Calhoun, Mrs. Paul A. Fowler, Mrs. J. B. Terrell Jr., Miss Anna Mae Calhoun and Miss Marjorie Riddle.

For the occasion the house was attractively decorated with cut flowers emphasizing a color theme of white and pink.

The bride's table was covered with an imported lace cloth and centered with a low crystal bowl of pink peonies nestled in fern. On one end of the table was the lovely three tiered wedding cake of white and pink on a large crystal plate which was a wedding gift of the bride's grandmother. On the opposite end of the table was the crystal punch bowl encircled in pink blossoms and fern.

Guests were welcomed by the hostess who presented the bride and groom.

After the bride had cut the first slice of cake, Miss Anna Mae Calhoun presided and Miss Marjorie Riddle poured punch. Others assisting in serving were Mes. Fowler, Calhoun, Bond and Terrell.

Neida Women Are In Fruit Section

Eighteen women of the Neida community met at the school house Friday to have their pressure cookers checked and attend a pineapple canning demonstration.

The morning was devoted to the checking of pressure cookers, 12 were checked. Clara Brown, home demonstration agent, was in charge of the meeting.

Miss Brown stressed the fact that anyone can can food and keep it but the problems today are to can it and preserve the food value. Fruit to preserve the vitamin content should be canned by the water bath method. The lesson was demonstrated by canning a pineapple, slicing, peeling, dicing, exhausting and processing it in the water bath. Points on selecting pineapple were given, and canning problems and questions were answered.

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon and work was done on a Red Cross quilt.

TUXEDO WOMEN

Fifteen ladies of the Tuxedo community met in the home of Mrs. W. H. Osment, Tuesday night for a pressure cooker clinic.

Nine cookers were checked under the direction of Clara Brown, Jones County Home Demonstration agent. A pineapple canning demonstration was given.

When a Child Needs a Laxative!

Your child should like this tasty liquid laxative and you should like the gentle way it usually wakes up a youngster's lazy intestines when given by the simple directions.

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT contains the same principal ingredient which has enabled its older brother BLACK-DRAUGHT to give so many users such satisfying relief for so many years!

Perhaps that's why it usually gives a child such refreshing relief when the familiar symptoms indicate a laxative is needed.

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT comes in 2 sizes. The introductory size is 25c; the economy size is 50c.

Alford Milliorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Milliorn, entered the Navy at Dallas last week. This young fellow was just 18 years of age, but is quite a man and could not wait on more years. So he is out to play his part.

"A Better World Tomorrow"

Young People's theme next week. Saturday evening, June 20, four highly trained and carefully selected young people with an adult counselor, will arrive in Hamlin to begin a week of intensive training with the young people of the Hamlin churches, sponsored by the local Methodist church.

Upon their arrival, the officers of the young people, their counselor, pastor, and leaders will meet with the Caravan to outline the program for the ensuing week. Although plans have long since been made by the local church, details are discussed and last minute suggestions will be in order as to what are the needs of the community in youth work. Prayer for God's guidance begins and ends the first session.

At Sunday school and the morning service, the week of the Caravan will be presented to the young people and the adults of the church in detail. "The Christian enterprise of the Methodist Youth Fellowship" and "The Youth Fellowship Views Its Task" will be the themes presented Sunday evening to the community. Inspirational glimpses of Christian youth at work are given and the picture includes the needs and the task ahead.

Then for the next five days—Monday through Friday—the church is to be a beehive of activity—groups to study worship and evangelism and personal religious living, groups to study world friendship, and community service, and recreation; groups of adults who lead youth.

Each afternoon's time is given to constructive action when the youth are inspired and guided in Christian service in church and community. Each night a captivating service is conducted by youth in such fields as "Personal Religious Living," "Enlisting with Christ for Church and Community," and "Christian Youth Helping Build a World of Survival".

Wholesome play will be a part of each evening's program for youth—and adults too. Time for contact with local luncheon clubs is planned to interpret what Christian youth is doing.

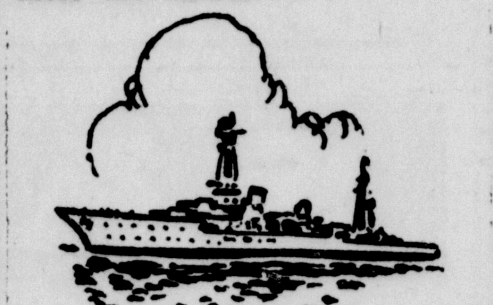

Friday night the week's activities are summed up in a service of evaluation and challenge and consecration. Saturday morning the Caravan will be gone to their next week's work elsewhere.

The local youth and their leaders are then entirely responsible for what is done to further their efforts here and develop the growing desire to have youth actively build a better community of Christian worship, fellowship and service. We want to know how to be on God's side, then there will be no doubt if he is on our side!

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Navy Cruisers are built in two classes, light and heavy, the latter displacing about 10,000 tons. Our navy has about an equal number of light and heavy Cruisers, the 10,000 ton Cruiser costing approximately $20,000,000. Many Cruisers are under construction and many more are needed.

To pay for these speedy and powerful ships with their heavy guns and armament we must buy War Bonds. Citizens of a large town or a given community, working in unity, could buy one of these ships for the Navy if they put at least ten percent of their income in War Bonds every pay day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miles and son Joe, and Mrs. Vera Jayroe, left Monday for Kentucky. The Miles family will visit his mother and other relatives in Kentucky, while Mrs. Jayroe will visit her son, J. B. who is stationed in Indiana.

McCaulley is to raise one hundred dollars for the U. S. O. The fund is for the entertainment of the boys in the armed forces. In other words the army is doing every thing within its power to make army life more home like for the boys. Levi McCollum is in charge of the drive and any contribution will be accepted by him, and it will be appreciated by the boys, and again we say, the most we can do is too little, and folks, let's raise McCaulley's part, and with the same eagerness that the boys march to the front.

Uncle Sam needs your old rubber. You may turn it in at Rector's Garage or the C. D. Jones Garage. Just three weeks folks to turn it in, and anything that is made of rubber will be accepted, and if we don't turn enough rubber over to Uncle Sam, then don't holler if gasoline is rationed.

O-O-O

Is John Citizen In The War? by Louis Bromfield, in the June 20th issue of the Liberty magazine is the most timely article written since the war began. Every citizen of the United States should read this article and especially the members of Congress should read and absorb every word of it.

The folks back home do not have the jitters. It's Congress who is for ever wailing and weeping about the folks back home not having their hearts in the war. Who on Capitol Hill got the idea that the plain citizen was so dumb? Who on Capitol Hill got the idea that Mr. Plain Citizen's morale was at a low ebb? The plain folks back home are believing that the members of Congress are the ones that took a good case of jitters, and that they must not have had much confidence in their ability to make a living after the plain folks voted them out of office or they wouldn't have voted themselves a pension.

The plain folks want efficiency and co-operation, and not a bureaucracy form of government who tells the people one day to save old paper and rags and then the next day, tell them to quit saving them.

In the town of McCaulley, Boy Scouts collected rags, old papers for days and we know of an old barn full to the brim, and yet no word or information as to what course now to take. The folks back home are ready at the drop of the hat to sacrifice and go all the way for victory.

Our hearts are in the war. Our boys fight on all fronts; we know our very existence may rest on the outcome of the war and all we want is efficiency in government, and for Washington to get rid of the hundreds of bureaucrats that muddy the water. We don't need some jelly-bean who sits behind a mahogany desk, and who never milked a cow or put a blind bridle on a mule to tell the farmer what to do or how to make a living. We don't need people who were born with a silver spoon in their mouth to tell the small business man how to run his business, and it's a funny thing why a rich woman like Mrs. Hobby got the big job, when perhaps an efficient office girl could handle the job.

The Epworth League presented a special program June 14. The purpose of the program was to give each young person an opportunity to pledge as much as he wanted to for the conference pledge. After the hymn "Give of Your Best to The Master" Betty Jo Green gave the call to worship. Morris Bessire told the purpose of the program and also gave the offertory prayer. At the close of the prayer the lights were out and the only light present was that of the long white tapers in the windows and on the offering table where the cross was the worship center.

Each young person marched by the table and placed his pledge on it. The group then sang "Are Ye Able". After this hymn Vada Taylor gave a review of "The Life of David Livingstone."

YOUR CAR How to Get the MOST out of It

KEEP IT LUBRICATED

The most important single thing to remember, if you want to get the most out of your car, is: keep it lubricated. If a front wheel lacked a bearing, you wouldn't think of running your car until a new one had been installed. Oil or grease is really a kind of frictionless bearing. It is structurally a part of your car. But how often do you check to see if it is on the job?

Best advice to the car owner is: follow religiously the instruction chart that came with your car. If a service man does your greasing, make sure he doesn't overlook anything. It is also important to be sure that the proper lubricant is used at the proper point.

Most trouble is caused by lack of lubrication, but it is possible to overdo it. Too much lubricant on the front wheel bearings may result in saturated brake linings; too much oil in the generator, starter, distributor, etc., may work into the wrong places.

Doing a good lubricating job is no simple matter. It means knowing what oil to use and where to use it. Using the wrong oil is almost as bad as putting in a repair part that doesn't fit. Don't forget that good lubricants are a lot cheaper than repairs and replacements.

Note: This is the seventh in a series of articles based on the book, Automobile User's Guide, published by the Customer Research staff of General Motors. Next article: Crankcase Oil.
